MATA History

MATA is a subsidiary company of the Safomar Group and was established in January 2010

What Trade may you select to study?

We provide training for the following apprenticeships:

1. Aircraft Mechanics
2. Aircraft Electricians
3. Aircraft Instrument mechanics
4. Aircraft Radiotrician
5. Aircraft Structures Worker
6. Aircraft Avionician
7. Aircraft Painter

What are the requirements to study at MATA?

You will qualify to study as an apprenticeship with us:

1. If you are over the age of 17 and have a Matric/N3 certificate with a pass in core maths. Maths literacy will be considered subject to a formal aptitude test being administered. For Avionics Trades core maths + Physics at a Matric/N3 level with 50% or higher pass is required.
2. Applicants must be able to speak, read and write English at a Matric/N3 level pass of preferably 50% or higher.
3. Applicants must be fully able bodied and not be colour blind.

What is the Make-up of the training at MATA?

You begin your studies with us for 1 year which will consist of theory and practical training (theory training is a requirement of the Department of Higher Education and the Transport Education Training Authority of South Africa)

What happens after the first year training?

Once you have completed your first year with us:

1. You will have fulfilled the TETA requirement.
2. You will be issued with a certificate
3. You will have practical and theoretical knowledge of the field of study you have chosen.

Thereafter MATA liaison officers will assist with placing you as an apprentice with an Aircraft Maintenance Organisation (AMO)

Unemployed learners placed at an AMO are NOT guaranteed that such AMO will employ you! No tertiary education institution can guarantee job placement!

4. You will then need to obtain a total of 2 800 hours of practical experience as an apprentice at an AMO. These hours must be logged in your logbook (downloadable from the TETA Website) as proof of aircraft maintenance experience, in order to qualify to apply for your Trade Test.

5. After you have applied to TETA and the DHET for your trade test (MATA will guide you through the process and help you to apply)

MATA will conduct a Trade Test Preparation Phase with you prior to your Trade Test Examination Days to ensure that you are adequately prepared for the most important exam in your aviation career.

On completion of your Trade Test you will be issued with a Trade Test Certificate by TETA.

Under what authority does MATA operate?

MATA is accredited by and thus operates under the authority of:

1. The South African Civil Aviation Authority
